

MARKET IS LIFELESS

Prices Made Stand Yesterday, But Yielded at the Close.

SHOWED SMALL NET LOSSES

Bank Statement Contained No Great Surprise, But Is Without Stimulating Effect.

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, June 25.—The stock market made some stand early today against the reactionary tendency yesterday, but yielded at the close and showed small net losses on the day. The result is to leave the week's changes quite small. The dealings to-day were indifferent to the point of lifelessness. A fractional rise in the Union and Southern Pacific and a steady tone of the Vashobas, in dealing the point of the effect of the remission of the interest on the debenture bonds, were the encouraging factors. Free offerings of consolidated gas and the Metropolitan traction stocks were unenthusiastic. The bank statement contained no great surprise, but it was entirely without stimulating effect. The increase in cash and reserves was nearly in accord with calculations and brought that item to a new high level. The $100,000,000 increase wanted only to be once repeated to bring the item to a record level. Today's deposits at $1,143,214,100, exceeded by over eleven millions the previous record made early last month. The demand for money in the market of trade is a clear indication from this condition of money. But growing discussion is being held by the banks and trust companies in causing this condition and to the soundness and healthfulness of the market as it stands at present.
